WHEREAS, Robert “Bob” and Rosalie Rothfuss have been residents of the City of Bellevue for most of their married life; and

WHEREAS, shortly after Bob’s return from Marine Corp’s service in WWII, Bob and Rosalie, young college graduates and newlyweds, took a seemingly unusable tract of land, built “a different kind of house”, and became involved in the City of Bellevue; and

WHEREAS, Bob served on the Bellevue Independent School District Board and actively promoted the building of a new elementary school (Grandview Elementary), lighting of Gilligan Stadium, and started a PeeWee football team in Bellevue; and

WHEREAS, Rosalie was instrumental in beautifying the City through her involvement with the Civic Club (now the Bellevue Neighborhood Association) and her efforts to plant and landscape the various “railroad properties” in the City which became the City’s pocket parks which provide enjoyment to all residents today; and

WHEREAS, The City of Bellevue wishes to recognize these two individuals who took the lead when asked and devoted long hours to multiple projects that are now cornerstones of our community.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT PROCLAIMED that Wednesday, January 11th, 2017 is hereby designated Bob and Rosalie Rothfuss Day in the City of Bellevue Kentucky.
