*A Free Bellevue Community Art and Land
Cultivation Project for All Ages!*

At the end of Grandview and Washington Avenue in Bellevue, KY, local artist Devan Horton is inviting the community to help create a pollinator meadow using seed paper painted with handmade botanical watercolors! Art pieces will be made and planted on-site, blooming into a native pollinator haven. Help transform this unused plot into a living piece of art to enjoy for many seasons! This project was funded by the Kentucky Foundation for Women's Art as Activism grant.
